Academy of Medical Education Scholars (AMES)

*The mission of the AMES is to mentor and support outstanding educators, and to promote excellence in teaching and educational scholarship at all College of Medicine teaching sites. The Academy of Medical Education Scholars recognizes the College's most outstanding educators and provides a forum for teaching faculty to work together to enhance educational programs. The nine distinguished College of Medicine faculty members serving as inaugural members of the Academy were recently joined by five new members.

The members of the Academy of Medical Education Scholars are:

Helen A. Amerongen, PhD

Professor, Cell Biology and Anatomy

John Bloom, MD

Professor, Pharmacology and Medicine

Doug E. Campos-Outcalt, MD, MPA

Associate Head, Family and Community Medicine-Preventive Medicine, UA College of Medicine - Phoenix

Christopher Cunniff, MD

Professor, Pediatrics, Pathology, and Obstetrics and Gynecology

Sean P. Elliott, MD (Chair)

Professor, Pediatrics

Deborah Fuchs, MD

Assistant Professor, Pathology

Paul Gordon, MD, MPH

Professor, Family and Community Medicine

William P. Johnson, MD

Assistant Professor, Medicine

Kevin F. Moynahan, MD

Deputy Dean, Education

John "Jack" Nolte, PhD

Professor, Cell Biology and Anatomy

Cynthia Standley, PhD

Professor, Basic Medical Sciences, UA College of Medicine - Phoenix

Paul R. Standley, PhD

Professor, Basic Medical Sciences, UA College of Medicine - Phoenix

Marc E. Tischler, PhD

Professor, Biochemistry and Molecular Biophysics

Todd W. Vanderah, PhD

Professor, Pharmacology, Anesthesiology, and Neurology

Vernon and Virginia Furrow Awards

Presented by Sean P. Elliott, MD

Virginia Mann Sugg Furrow, MD. Virginia graduated from medical school in June 1942, one of only two females in her graduating class. During her career as a pediatrician, Virginia treated the young victims of Polio and Tuberculosis, and was one of the first doctors to treat patients with a new miracle drug called Penicillin. Married to Vernon Furrow on March 4, 1960, Virginia became his life partner in every sense of the word. She became a loving stepmother to Vernon's three children, and later a grandmother and great-grandmother to their children and grandchildren. She shared in the dream of Vernon's small lumber company, which later became Payless Cashway, and served as Vernon's co-adventurer as they travelled the world together. She was widely known for her commitment to the College of Medicine and its educational programs. After Vernon's death, she donated funds in his memory to establish the Furrow Awards (still our principal mechanism for peer recognition of excellence in education) and the Furrow Grants program (the forerunner of the AMES Grants program).

Faculty Teaching Awards

Outstanding teaching is an integral part of the College of Medicine's mission and is deserving of significant recognition. These awards recognize faculty members for teaching excellence and their ability to encourage intellectual excitement, inspire the discovery of knowledge, and foster critical inquiry in the classroom, or lab.

Year I and II

Awarded by the medical students to faculty members for excellence in teaching in the basic science curriculum.

Lifetime Teaching Award

Recognizes truly unique faculty members who have made exceptional contributions to medical education and have received the Educator of the Year Award three times.

Deborah Fuchs, MD

Department of Pathology

Outstanding Teacher in a Block

Year I – Todd W. Vanderah, PhD
Nervous System, Department of Pharmacology

Year II – Nafees Ahmad, PhD
Immunity and Infection, Department of Immunobiology

Dean's List for Excellence in Teaching

Year I – Helen M. Amerongen, PhD
Foundations, Department of Cellular and Molecular Medicine

Erika R. Bracamonte, MD
DHM I, Department of Pathology

Wayne J. Morgan, MD
Pulmonary Systems, Department of Pediatrics

John D. Palmer, MD
Cardiovascular Systems, Department of Pharmacology

Year II – James P. Kerwin, MD
Life Cycle, Department of Family and Community Medicine

Amy Waer, MD,
Advanced Topics, Department of Surgery

Year III and IV

Awarded by a vote of the junior and senior medical students to faculty members for compassion, skill and distinction as a physician and teacher.

Educator of the Year

John W. Bloom, MD
Department of Pharmacology
